2. I graduated from The University of Chicago Law School in 1979. I was admitted to practice in Washington in the October of 1979, have practiced in Washington continuously since that time, and am an active member in good standing of the Washington State Bar Association.

3. I am admitted to practice in the United States District Courts for the Western District of Washington, the Eastern District of Washington, the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, and the United States Supreme Court. I have also been admitted pro hac vice in various other state and federal courts in jurisdictions outside of Washington including Oregon, Alaska, California, New York, New Hampshire, Arizona, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Nevada, Wisconsin, and Montana.

4. I was an associate attorney at Perkins Coie from September 1979-1985, and have been a partner of the firm since January 1, 1986. At all times I have practiced in the general litigation practice group at Perkins Coie, engaged in a variety of state and federal court litigation. I have represented both individuals and businesses, and have had ample trial experience over the past 37 years.

5. I am a member of several professional organizations, and have received some professional recognition, including: Fellow, American College of Trial Lawyers (2001); Member, International Society of Barristers (2007 and currently serving on Board of Trustees and as Second Vice-President); Member, Board of Directors of Attorneys' Liability Assurance Society, Inc. 1 Historical Society; President, King County Bar Foundation (2011-12); Second Vice-President,
 2 King County Bar Association; Chairman, ABA Standing Committee on Lawyers Professional
 3 Liability (1991-94); and American Inns of Court Professionalism Award for the Ninth Circuit
 4 (2009). Although my experience in class action litigation has been primarily on the defense side, 5 I am familiar with the procedural aspects and requirements of class action litigation, and I have 6 served as counsel for plaintiffs in many civil cases in state and federal court, including this 7 Court. My experience in class action cases includes serving as defense counsel in the Boeing 8 Securities Litigation before Judge Zilly in the late 1990s.

9         6. My colleague, Nicholas Gellert, is also one of the attorneys representing plaintiffs 10 in this case. Mr. Gellert graduated from Georgetown University Law Center in 1988, and has 11 been employed by Perkins Coie in the firm's general litigation practice group from 1988 to the 12 present. He is admitted to practice in Washington and is a member in good standing with the 13 Washington State Bar Association. Mr. Gellert has been named a Washington Super Lawyer
 14 each year since 2010, and in 2003 received both the Washington State Bar Association's Award
 15 of Merit and the King County Bar Association's President's Award.

16         7. Mr. Gellert maintains an active pro bono practice, through which he has handled 17 both individual claims and complex litigation, including several capital cases and other 18 constitutional litigation. He played an important role in defending the constitutionality of 19 Interest on Lawyer Trust Account (IOLTA) programs, which achieved vital protection of this 20 important mechanism for funding indigent legal services. Brown v. Legal Foundation of 21 Washington, 271 F.3d 835 (9th Cir. 2001) (en banc), aff'd, 538 U.S. 216 (2003). He currently 22 serves, by appointment of the Washington Supreme Court, on Washington's Access to Justice
 23 Board, and previously served on the board of the Legal Foundation of Washington.

24         8. Mr. Gellert represented a nationwide class of 3,000 Somalian immigrants in Ali v.
 25 Gonzales, 213 F.R.D. 390 (W.D. Wash. 2013). He also has experience representing defendants

1 in class action lawsuits, and he is familiar with the procedural and substantive aspects of class
2 action litigation.

3 9. My colleague, Kate Reddy, is also one of the attorneys representing plaintiffs in 4 this case. Ms. Reddy graduated from Harvard Law School in 2006. She began her career as an 5 associate at the law firm of Bryan Cave in St. Louis, Missouri, where she practiced from 2006-
6 2009. In 2009, Ms. Reddy joined Perkins Coie as an associate, and was promoted to partner in 7 2017.

8 10. Ms. Reddy is admitted to practice in Illinois, Missouri, and Washington, and is a 9 member in good standing of the Washington State Bar Association. Ms. Reddy is familiar with 10 the procedural and substantive aspects of class action litigation. Ms. Reddy has served as 11 counsel for defendants and plaintiffs in many civil cases in state and federal court, including this 12 Court. Ms. Reddy was counsel of record in Foster Parents Association of Washington State v.
13 Quigley, et al., No. 3:11-cv-05051-BHS (W.D. Wash. 2014), representing an association of 14 foster parents in Washington.

15 11. My colleague, David A. Perez, is also one of the attorneys representing plaintiffs 16 in this case. Mr. Perez graduated from Yale Law School in 2010. After law school he clerked
17 for the Honorable Robert Beezer on the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. After his clerkship, Mr.
18 Perez served as the Assistant Director of the Fred T. Korematsu Center for Law and Equality at 19 Seattle University School of Law, where his practice focused on constitutional law and civil 20 rights appeals. Mr. Perez joined Perkins Coie in 2012 as an associate in the general litigation
21 practice group, and was promoted to the position of counsel in 2017. He is a member in good 22 standing of the Washington State Bar Association.

23 12. Mr. Perez has presented over 20 arguments at the trial court level, and has 24 substantial appellate experience, briefing cases at all levels of state and federal government, 25 including the U.S. Supreme Court. He has argued in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth
26 Circuit and before the Washington Court of Appeals. Each year since 2013 he has been named a

2 Association’s President’s Award, and in 2015 he received the Champion of Voting Rights award
3 from the Seattle-King County chapter of the League of Women Voters.

4 13. Although Mr. Perez’s experience in class action litigation has been on the defense 5 side, he is familiar with the procedural and substantive aspects of class action litigation, and has 6 served as counsel for plaintiffs in civil cases in state and federal court.

7 14. Neither I, Mr. Gellert, Ms. Reddy, Mr. Perez, Perkins Coie, nor any co-counsel
8 are receiving reimbursement from the individual plaintiffs or class members in this case. We are 9 representing plaintiffs and the class, if certified, on a pro bono basis. All counsel are qualified 10 and capable of adequately and fairly representing the interests of the class.
